5 Your plan

- 1

Days left in your free week, and the next useful thing to do.
- 2

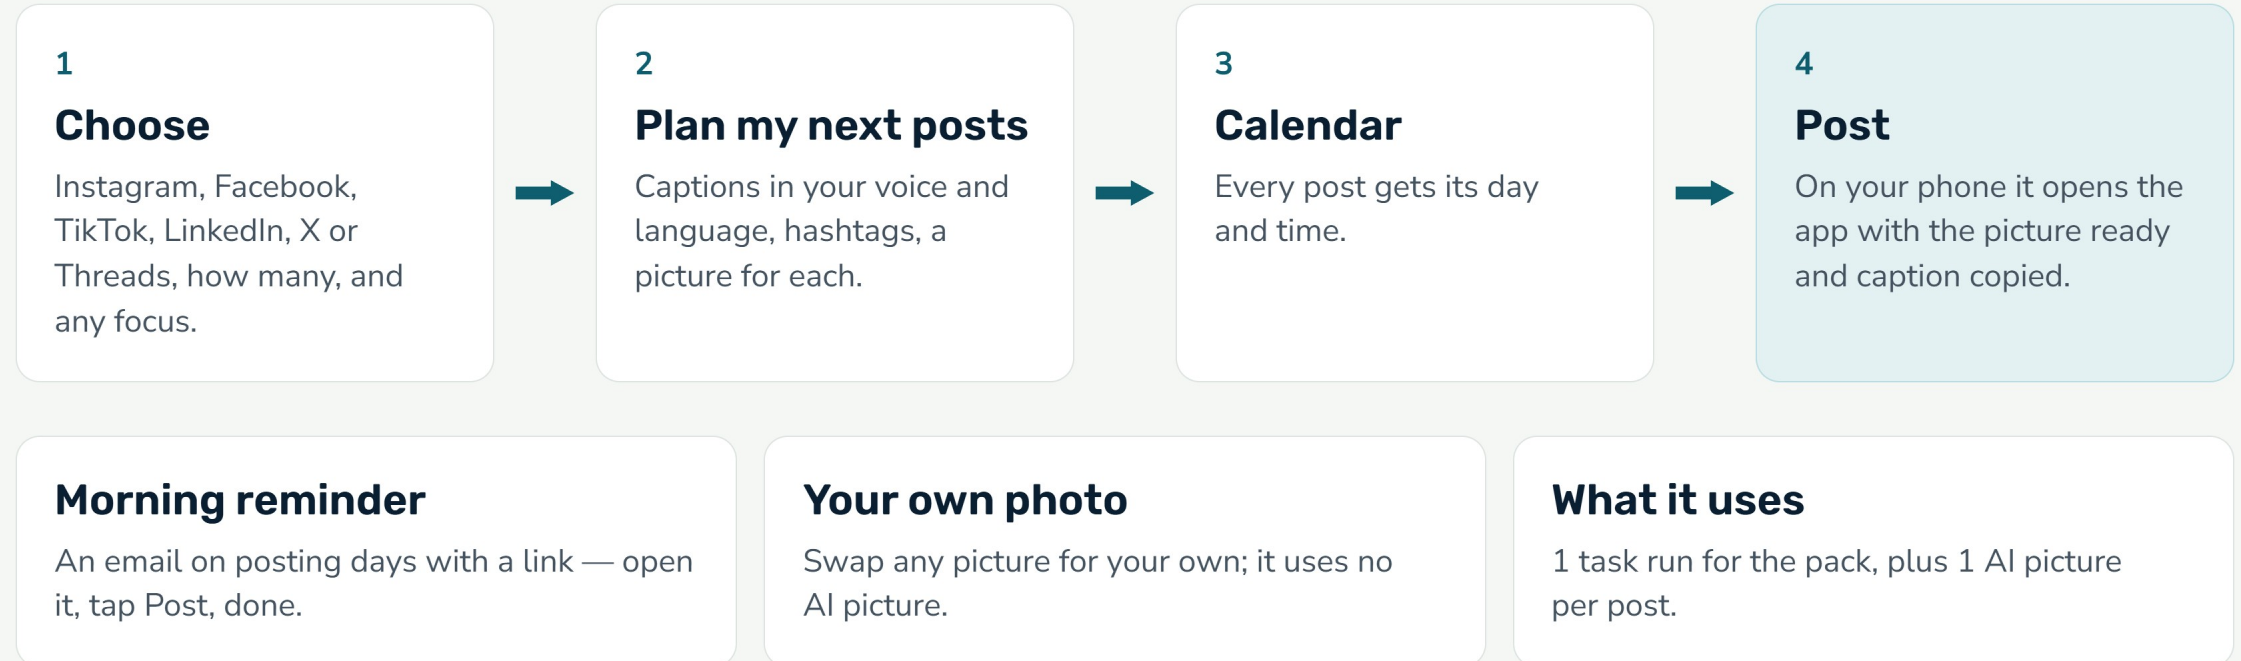

Posts to publish today, results waiting for your review, new research findings.
- 3

An estimate of the time the same work takes by hand — assumptions on the Analysis page.
- 4

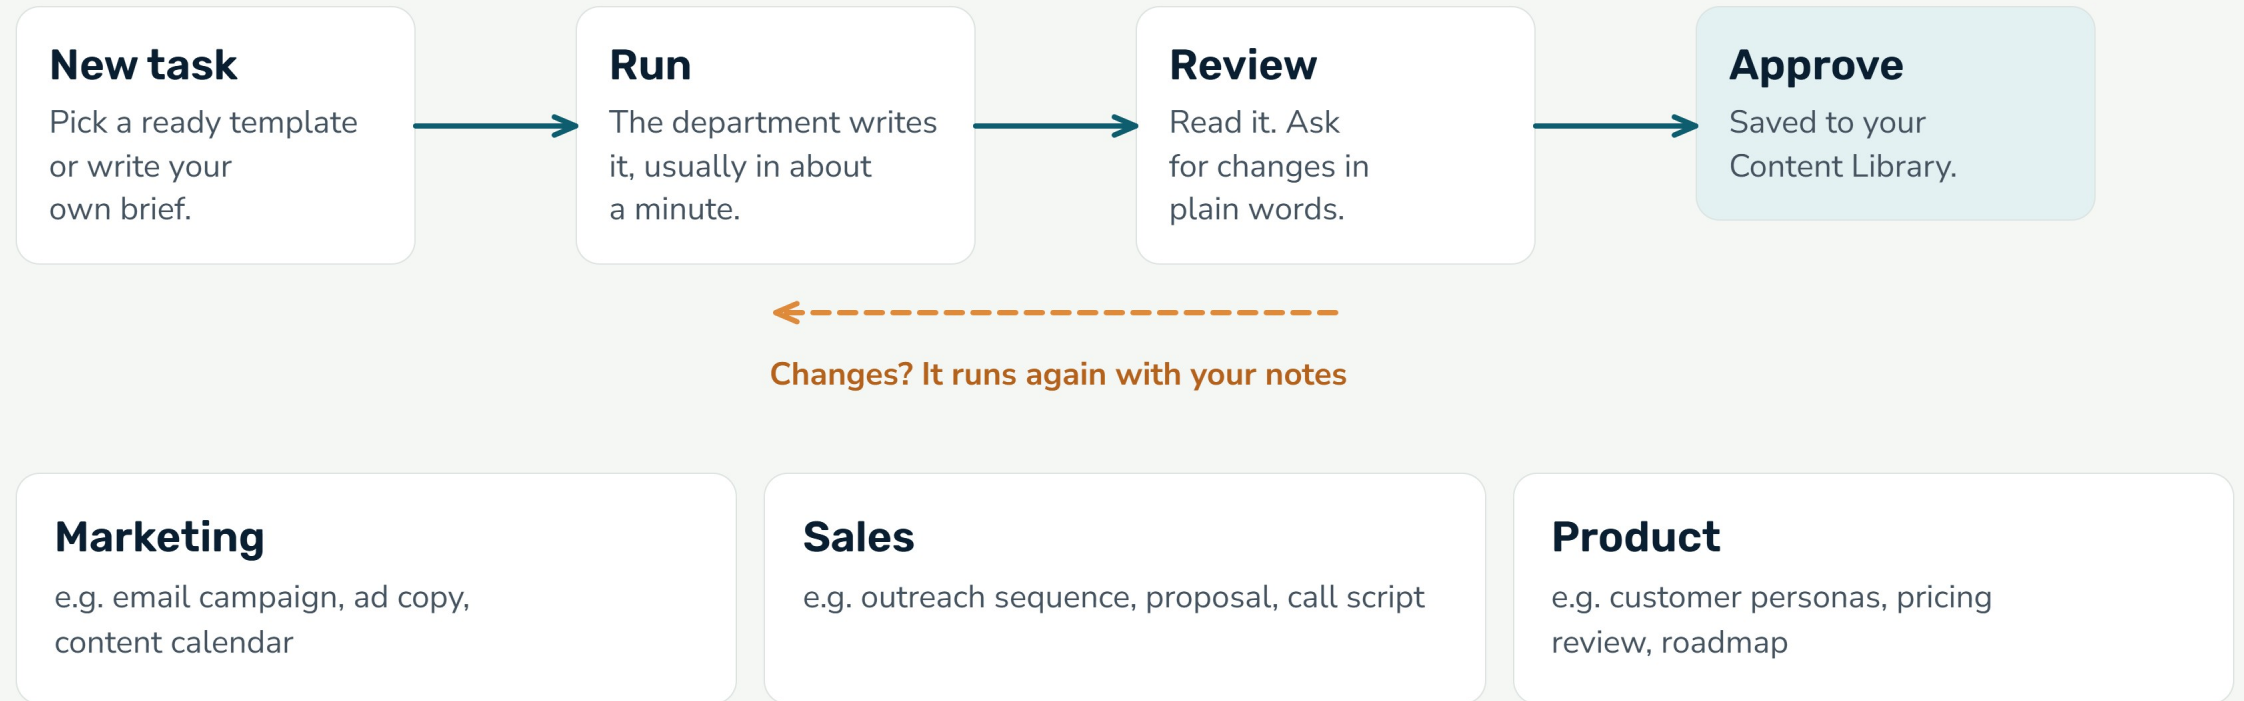

Your next planned posts, with their pictures.
- 5

What you have, plus one line to add more.

What one check looks like

THE QUESTION

“Best café for coffee near Bandar Sri Damansara?”

Google Gemini

Not named

Claude

Not named

Recommended instead: 8 other coffee places → question sent to the writer.

Real first check for a sample café, 27 Sep 2026

Named you?

Did the answer mention your business?

Used your website?

Was your site one of its sources?

Who instead?

The businesses it recommended — your real competition in AI.

Free, every week. AI answers change from one ask to the next — watch the trend over a few weeks, not one check.

Three ways to get articles onto your website

Paste

Any website

Copy for my website: title, article, SEO description, URL and FAQ code — paste into Wix, Squarespace, Shopify, Webflow or Framer.

Connect once

Automatic

A Zapier or Make webhook sends each approved article to almost any platform.

Direct

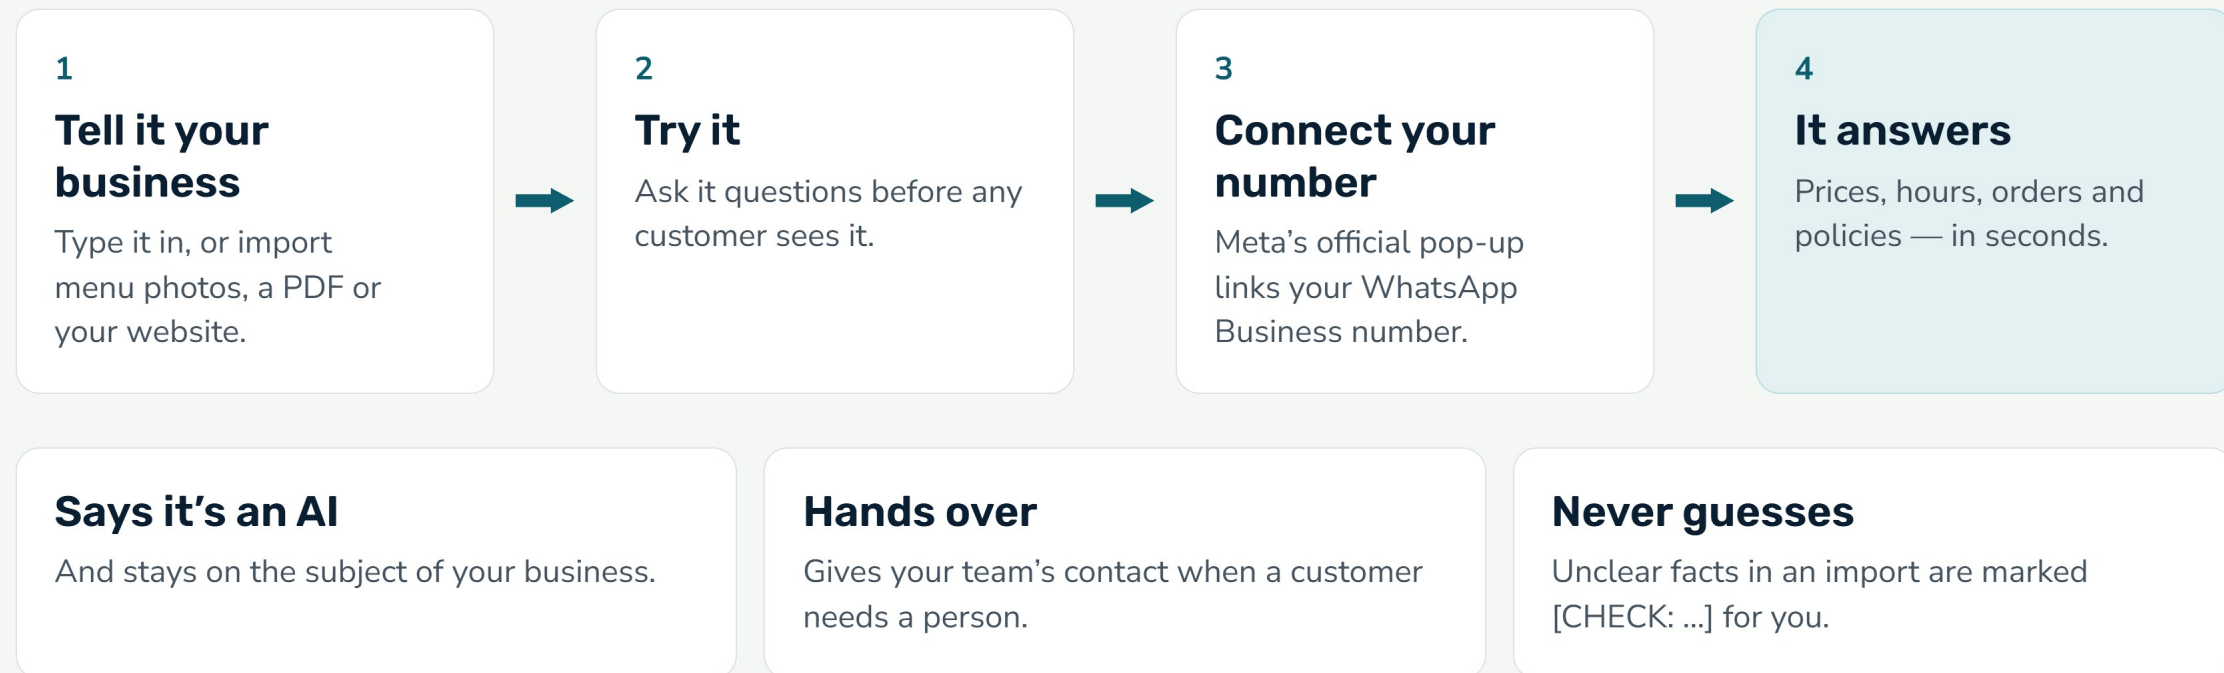

WordPress

Connect directly and publish as a draft or live.

Always after you approve. An article that still has an [ADD: ...] or [VERIFY: ...] note is only ever saved as a draft, never published live.
